

It's not every day you get to Race Through Space! On Monday, Reception and Key Stage One enjoyed a visit to the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra. The children were invited on an out of this world adventure, racing through space and exploring music with presenters Bryony and Charlotte and their Space Orchestra. The Space Orchestra performed a stellar symphonic repertoire by Gustav Holst, Richard Strauss and John Williams.

Year One have had a wonderful time learning about the traditions of and celebrating St Patrick's Day. They located famous landmarks in Northern Ireland and even did some Irish dancing of their own.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Title: The Memory Tree

Author: By Britta Teckentrup

Recommended by: Mrs Mosley

Fox had lived a long and happy life but now he was tired. He looked at his beloved forest one last time, closed his eyes and fell asleep forever.

I have thought long and hard about which book to recommend to you all, but as this weekend happens to be an important one for my family, in which we remember our "Normee", I thought this book was a good choice.

This book is a beautifully written and illustrated book that celebrates the life of a much-loved friend and family member of the forest. It helps to put what is a difficult time for people into a child friendly way, be it a beloved pet or a much-loved family member.

I hope you enjoy reading about fox's wonderful life and that if you take anything away from this book, it's the fact that all those memories you make with your families will one day add to your own memory tree, and it will be full of beautiful leaves too.
